IT MAKES NO DRUNKARDS,
Breaks no Hearts,
Excuses no Crimes.
Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. FAVORITE REMEDY is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It does not heat nor inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fulness of words which mere business documents and certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. In its coming there is hope, and in its wings there is healing. We challenge a trial, and are confident of the result. ONE DOLLAR A BOTTLE. Remember: FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

SURE DEATH

Insects of all Kinds, is the result of the use of Dalmatian Insect Powder,
which is SAFE to use and HARMLESS to human life. Our constantly increasing sales convinces us that a single trial according to directions will establish this fact.

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN REMEDIES.
The treatment of Skin Diseases must be constitutional and local. First purify the Blood, next restore the Strength, third alleviate the External Symptoms. There is but one way to purify the blood, and that is through the bowels, liver, kidneys and skin. These organs are the natural purifiers of the system and carry off waste or dead matter. CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the greatest blood purifier in medicine. It is a cathartic, a tonic, a liver stimulant, a diuretic, a resolvent and absorbent. It absorbs to itself the poisonous elements that float in the blood and purges them from the system. It increases the appetite, perfects digestion, and soon builds up better than disease can destroy, and hence permanently cures. CUTICURA, a Medicinal Jelly for external application, arrests disease, eats away dead flesh and skin, allays inflammation, itching and irritation, renders healthy ulcers and old sores, and heals every external affection when the RESOLVENT is taken internally. It is a natural remoulder and beautifier of the Hair. CUTICURA TOILET SOAP, prepared from CUTICURA, is cleansing, healing, refreshing, and the daily wholesome beautifier of the skin, which it softens, whitens and preserves beyond all praise. CUTICURA SHAVING SOAP, prepared from CUTICURA, is the first and only medicinal soap compounded especially for shaving. Gentlemen pronounce it worth its weight in gold.

BLOOD HUMORS.
Whole System affected. Glandular Swellings with Ulcerations, Hacking Cough.
Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with a Blood Humor for two years, which the best city doctors called Erysipelas, Chronic Psoriasis and Scald Head. My whole system, especially face, head and lungs, was affected. I tried all the best known advertised remedies with no success whatever. Was told by the best lung doctor in this city that the sooner I got cured the better. My symptoms were in number accompanied by Glandular Swellings, with Ulcers in the Throat and Stomach, Dry, Hacking Cough, Deafness, with Ringing Noises in the Head. For fifteen months I have done nothing but take medicine with no benefit whatever. The CUTICURA REMEDIES have cured me, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.
Respectfully yours,
FRANK ASHEY.
26 PORTLAND ST., Boston, April 7, 1879.

ECZEMA
Effectually Cured in Eight Weeks. Nothing Equal to the Cuticura Remedies.
Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Gentlemen,—Have never used any remedies for blood diseases that can compare with the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I have used them in all forms for a very severe case of what the doctors call Eczema, which was effectually cured in eight weeks. As a blood purifier, nothing can equal your CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I cannot say too much in their praise, and I am noising them about the city.
Truly yours, etc., MANUEL MANINTZ.

DR. C. W. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate, if properly used. They are not a cure all, but only for those special diseases. They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cures constipation by curing or removing the cause of it. They have a charming effect upon the skin, and a lovely, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding it ten thousand hungry, yes, in some cases starving absorbents. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. Nobody that has a nervous system should neglect to take them two or three months in each year, simply as a nerve tonic, if for no other purpose. The New England Fair closed last Saturday.

Baltimore is to celebrate her 150th anniversary in October in fine style.

A turtle weighing thirty pounds was recently captured in the brook in Wells.

Ellsworth was brilliantly illuminated Monday night in honor of the Republican victory gained there.

"Lemmy, you're a pig," said a farmer to his son, who was five years old. "Now, do you know what a pig is, Lemmy?" "Yes, sir; a pig is a hog's little boy."

"Yes," said the steward of the steamer, "I admit that the salt beef was bad, the potatoes rotten, the bread sour and the tea poor—but the rest of the provisions were good." "What were the rest of the provisions?" "Oh! salt, pepper and mustard."

Clergyman (to newly wedded pair): "The marriage state imposes various duties. The husband must protect the wife, while the wife must follow the husband whithersoever he goes." Bride: "Lor', sir, can't that be altered in our case? My husband is going to be a letter carrier."

The erection of the new Woolen Mill, on Branch Pond stream, in the Joy neighborhood, will be commenced as soon as the frame is sawed out. The dam has been rebuilt and work on the canal wall is progressing. It is estimated that when completed the mill will afford employment for about thirty hands.—Ellsworth American.

Miss Etta Fay, of Worcester, packed her trunk some weeks ago and went to Mt. Desert for a season. She received a genuine surprise when, on opening her trunk, she discovered the pet cat from home nicely stowed away, among her clothes. The animal was alive and well, and although packed in the trunk from the forenoon of one day to the afternoon of the next, appeared none the worse for the journey.

SPICED CRAB APPLES. 7 pounds of crabs, 3 pounds of white sugar, 1 pint of vinegar, ½ ounce each of whole cloves and cinnamon stick. Let the sugar and vinegar come to a boil, to which the spice has been added, before putting in the apples. The latter should be added only in such quantities at a time as to ensure their thorough cooking, removing as soon as done to give place to more. When all are cooked, pour over them the syrup.

The season at Bar Harbor has closed. It has been the most profitable ever known there. Before another season commences many more cottages will be erected and large amounts of money expended in other improvements. The Tourist says: "We understand that improvements are to be made in the Bar Harbor Water Works before another season. The Rodick Brothers, who own a majority of the stock, with their accustomed enterprise, are ready to meet the growing demand for more water, caused by the growth of the place."

The annual Show and Fair of the Penobscot Agricultural Society will be held at Hampden Town House, October 5th and 6th, 1880. A DOUBTFUL INDORSEMENT.

The Commercial yesterday, with one prolonged shout and Indian war whoop, proclaims that the recent election was a handsome indorsement of John B Foster. Mr. Foster is indorsed by the fifty thousand dollars of the National Committee sent into this section at the solicitation of Mr. Foster and other State thieves Indorsed! Boss Tweed was "indorsed" by the municipal swindlers of New York city, but finally found himself in a "dungeon cell." Bully Brooks was "indorsed" by the entire fire-eating South, who applauded his infamous and cowardly assault upon the noble Sumner Jeff Davis, the arch traitor, who conspired against the life of the nation, is "indorsed" to-day by the party that upholds the official conduct of John B. Foster Sims and Maguire, bank robbers, were "indorsed" by the entire community of bank robbers in the holes and dens of the worst city of America, but the indorsement wasn't worth a cent in the courts of Maine which condemned them for their crime and sent them to the State Prison. The Commercial arrays the indorsers of John B Foster against the friends of Charles A. Boutelle, those who stood back of him in this controversy. We should like to see the forces on either side drawn up for inspection Back of Mr Foster we should find Frank Fogg, Alonzo Garcelon, the whole desperate band of forgers who last winter came near plunging the State in civil war, the Hunker Democrats, the secession fire eaters, every base and debased creature that crawls his slimy way through the dens of infamy, every communist every brute who would tear down the fabric of our Government and even the Union of these States, every hater of ministers of the Gospel, every man opposed to progress in civilization, and whose ignorance and prejudice are the elements out of which emerge our criminal classes.

Such are the indorsers of Mr. Foster Glance at those on the opposite side, who in the brilliant contest he has made have rallied around the standard upheld by Capt. Boutelle It is the company out of which Mr. Foster went, because he belonged not with them "He went to his own place" In that company are the men of character, the men of business and the men of intelligence To them the community looks for the inauguration and carrying forward of all those enterprises by which the wheels of industry move and prosperity smiles throughout the land They are the men who build and sustain school-houses and churches, public educators, ministers of the gospel, the scientific and business men who are foremost in every good word and work They are those who believe in an honest ballot and a fair count, in the perpetuity of the Union, in the full freedom of all its citizens We should like to see the two forces drawn up in contrast, and then have the opinion of an intelligent community as to the relative value of their indorsement

STALWART!

A correspondent in West Hampden writes: Since Monday evening there has been a constant rebel howl from the secesh rebels in this part of the town, and every copperhead rebel that rejoiced in the defeat of our soldiers in the rebellion was the most jubilant, and it reminds me of those times, but I want you to understand that the Republicans are not discouraged but are determined to fight it out if takes all summer

The Commercial is in extremely bad humor since its Fusion victory turned to dust and ashes. It is hardly worth while to deny its mendacious charges that Capt. Boutelle was untrue in his political relations with Hon. Silas C. Hatch and Jasper Hutchings, Esq Those gentlemen repel with scorn any such base insinuation. Their political relations with Capt. Boutelle are of the most intimate and confidential nature, his honesty, sincerity and truthfulness have never been doubted by them or by any Democrat or Fusionist whose opinion is worth a copper, and we happen to know that neither of these gentlemen desire the soft words of Dan Sanborn whose compliments are vastly more damaging than his curses.

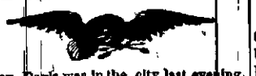
We regret that the name of Capt. Jonathan C. Nickels, who is the Republican Representative elect from Searsport, was by mistake put in the list of Fusionists He doesn't belong there, and Searsport remains a strong Republican town. The town cast on Monday 241 votes for Davis, to 150 for Plaisted, a Republican increase of 42 in the majority over last year. If all Republican towns had done as well, the State would have gone Republican by ten thousand majority

LOST, STRAYED, OR STOLEN—A Great Fusion - Hancock - Plaisted - Combination-Double - back-Action-Demonstration. It was first heard of on Tuesday evening, was hanging around the bulletin boards on Wednesday, and yesterday was nowhere to be found. Plaisted & Co. are anxious as to its whereabouts.

A Democrat on the street yesterday, was boasting of the "great victory." They had certainly elected Plaisted, and the Republican majority of fifteen thousand by which the State had formerly been carried, had vanished away. The country would count it as a Democratic victory. He was asked about the twenty thousand Greenbackers who had acted with the Democrats. "O, those amount to nothing; we are going to make good Democrats out of them." But how about Weaver? "Weaver, why, we'll kick him out, where he belongs." How do the Republican Greenbackers like that?

One hundred and fifty shirts are on [illegible]

THE ELECTION OF DAVIS.



Gov. Davis was in the city last evening, and received a despatch from Stephen Berry, Esq., of Portland, agent of the Associated Press, giving the recapitulation of the returns up to that time, and closing with these words. "You may be elected, therefore, by a majority, and cannot fail to come in either by plurality or by the Legislature."

This is in confirmation of the despatches in our telegraphic columns. In the country and remote towns the Republican gains are steady and uniform, cutting down the Fusion vote, and swelling the figures in the Republican columns. This proves to a demonstration the charge made of corrupt use of large sums of money by the Fusionists. Its power was felt in the larger places, but in the remote districts where they had no time to place it, the Republicans made gains in almost every instance.

The election of Davis seems to be placed beyond doubt, making the victory of the Republicans quite complete leaving only the regret that they were unable to overcome the corrupt influences that prevented them from redeeming the Fourth and Fifth Districts

From an adverse majority of 13,000 two years ago, the Republican party, fighting for principles against the party of plunder, and under the depressing influence of hard times, has steadily gained in strength, power and compactness, until in the election of Monday, it has chosen its Governor and both branches of the Legislature, assuring the election of a U S Senator for six years, an Executive Council, State officers, and three Congressmen, and will continue the administration of State affairs for the two coming years The Fusionists were not anticipating this during their premature rejoicings on Monday evening

THE LESSON OF IT.

[From the Boston Journal]

Adversity has its uses, and although the lessons which it teaches may not be clearly perceived at once, and one might wish to have them taught in some more agreeable way, it is wiser to accept them without complaint, and to see what of knowledge and strength may come from a right use of them The result of the Maine election is disappointing in two ways First, because it indicates a dullness of the moral sense among the people which it was not natural to look for in any New England State. The frauds and forgeries which were perpetrated by Gov Garcelon and his Council a year ago, and the desperate attempt which they made to thwart the expressed will of the people, constituted a more serious crime against popular government than ever disgraced any Northern State The evidence of the crime was so overwhelming that the Democratic members of the investigating committee found it impossible to deny the facts, and signed a report admitting their truth When the chief conspirators in this plot and the political parties which had sought to profit by it presented themselves impudently, and asked the indorsement of the people, it would have been an affront to the intelligence, the honesty, the independence, and the morality of the citizens of Maine to suppose that their verdict could have been other than one of condemnation. It is useless to seek an explanation of the causes which have disappointed this just expectation. There are the facts, and we submit that to an honest judgment they are even more discreditable than the offence committed by the counting out conspirators a year ago In that, only a few men were directly concerned, but this disgrace tarnishes the good name of the State, because it involves a majority of the citizens in the defence of the crime This is the first and chief disappointment The second is that the influence which Maine might have exerted on the right side in the national canvass is forfeited, and from North to South there is no foe of the general prosperity, no man who fought against the Union and now seeks to rule what he could not ruin, no inflationist or advocate of wild-cat money, or red shirted bulldozer in South Carolina or fraudulent voter in the slums of New York, no plotter against the purity of elections and the protection of the ballot who will not exult over the result in Maine.

The first and most obvious peril is that the significance of the election may be exaggerated We can endure very complacently the rejoicings of the Democracy, and we are content that they should attach all the importance which they please to a success which so far exceeds their hopes. But there is not the slightest reason for Republicans to give way to discouragement The result in Maine has been brought about by local causes to a very large extent, but to assume that it is decisive, or even prophetic of the result in November, is absurd. If the State election in Maine chanced to occur on the same day as the Presidential election it would have no more importance than the vote of any other State choosing the same number of electors The importance attaching to the result there is accidental, not real. Suppose the Fusionists have retained the majority which they have had for two years, or have even succeeded, by extraordinary efforts, in gaining slightly upon it, what then? The combination is scarcely likely to hold together through the Presidential canvass, the efforts made to bring about the present result cannot be repeated, and the electors chosen in Maine will, we have little doubt, be counted in the Garfield and Arthur column However this may be, the issues before the country are unchanged, the candidates and the principles which they represent are the same; and the voters of New York and Indiana or any other Northern State are not going to change their convictions or their votes because the citizens of Maine have missed of their opportunity.

The lessons to be learned by Republicans are, briefly, these Increased vigilance and earnestness, a more careful observance of the enemy's "still hunt" tactics, and the use of measures to thwart them; and an unsleeping devotion which shall not relax between to-day and the day of election, and which shall bring to the polls every Republican vote. If the result in Maine had been the sweeping Republican victory which some looked for, it might very easily have induced a feeling of over-confidence which would have been disastrous in the end. In such a contest as that before us nothing is to be gained by boastfulness, and nothing is to be more dreaded than an easy assurance of victory, leading to carelessness and a relaxed vigilance. If the Republicans throughout the country will gather from the result in Maine the necessity of the most intense and constant individual exertion it will be better for them than victory would have been. The Republican party thrives in the midst of buffetings; its worst enemy is indifference and over-confidence in its own ranks.

The Commercial is going to have a stew and has it on its [illegible] We confess [illegible]

A DRAWN BATTLE.

[From the New York Tribune]

It is not yet clear which side has won the fight. In either case the majority will be so small that it must be called a drawn battle. But in November the issue is different. The Greenback candidate for President has declared his determination not to permit the Fusion electoral ticket to be voted for by his party, if he can help it, and others of the leaders of the party have been demanding the nomination at the approaching State Convention of a straight electoral ticket. Should that be done, an easy Republican victory will follow in November. If it should not be done, the battle would be joined again more fiercely than before, with at least an even chance for the Republicans

It is not too early, however, to draw an excellent moral The Republican party has been growing too confident of late, and has been enjoying its victories in advance. Work, and not confidence, wins elections. If this disappointment should excite the party to greater exertions, it will be a piece of good fortune The sober sentiment of the country is with the Republican party, but that sentiment must be aroused to a sense of the dangers which would lie in a victory of a party of fraud repudiation and disloyalty.

CAPTAIN BOUTELLE

The gallant leader of the fight in the Fourth District has made hosts of friends who will not forget him The malicious exultations of the Fusionists are heightened by the soreness which they feel from the hard blows which Capt Boutelle has unsparingly dealt them.—Ellsworth American.

HOW WILLIAM H ENGLISH MADE HIS FORTUNE

BUYING PROPERTY OF TAX SALES—EVICTING POOR TENANTS—FORCING EMPLOYES TO RENT HIS ROOMS.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 13—The further the investigation is pushed into the manner in which W H English acquired his great wealth, the more his character suffers The evidence taken from the records of his grinding policy toward the poor continues to be published It was at first stated, in behalf of Mr English, that he did not deal in tax titles, yet records show that he has tax titles to 213 pieces of property in Indianapolis Then an effort was made to prove that he actually lost money on real estate loans, but the records prove that the balance in his favor between the amounts he bid at Sheriff's sale and the assessed value of the property is nearly $300,000, and that many of the notes on which he foreclosed were purchased by him, individually, at from 30 to 50 cents on the dollar His latest defence—that he was lenient toward the poor indebted to him—is disproved by the fact that during the last two years 60 ejectment suits have been brought by him before two Justices of the Peace, out of the thirteen in office in Indianapolis In addition to these 60, 11 were evicted during the present year, up to the time of holding the Cincinnati Convention, but none since Some of these evicted tenants have been talked with. Andrew O Conder, an Irishman, was evicted Aug. 5, 1879, from No 117 West McCarty street, because he owed $3 rent He was out of employment, and is a sober, industrious man He had three children, and is now working on the Belt road Mrs. Ellen English, the widow of William H English, a namesake of the "poor man's friend," was ejected summarily from No 30 Circle-hall, directly adjoining the barred window, on Oct 15, last, and this was done without the intervention of an agent John Arnold, in Greenwood street, received his walking papers May 5 1880 He had four children, who were motherless, and the home from which he was turned out did not have a pane of glass from foundation to roof These ejectment suits were not brought for money due They were brought for an advance every time

Another method adopted by the "Poor man's friend" to aid in building up his barrel is as follows He was President and principal owner of the Citizen's Street Railway Company of Indianapolis. It was a close corporation, and no man could get work who did not rent a house, or at least a room, from William H English It mattered nothing as to whether the man was married or single, his name could never be placed upon the pay-roll of the street car company until it was registered upon the rent-roll of William H. English. All his employees were thereby made his rental agents Some of these unfortunates have been seen the first one being A H Fitty, who was formerly in charge of the harness department at the car stables He found it necessary to rent a house from English at Dillon and Deloss streets in order to get a job The rent was taken from his wages each week in advance Mr Fitty says that it was the invariable rule that all employees should rent from English, and that rent, whether the property was occupied or not, was taken from their wages every Monday. Several persons who were made to conform to this rule were seen, and all confirmed its binding force. Two of them, at least, never were inside of rooms for which they were required to pay.

The Commercial Bulletin presents returns from 210 counties in the Northwest as to the condition and amount of the spring wheat crop They say that it seems evident that the culture of winter wheat is coming into greater favor in the Northwest, especially in the older agricultural districts. The farmers appear also to have enlarged their corn area at the expense of spring wheat. The yield of the latter is, however, greater than in 1879 The old crop is sold very close, much closer than usual The total yield in the States of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Wisconsin and Dakota Territory, as reckoned on the basis of the returns received, is 147,831,000 bushels of spring wheat, against 126,460,000 bushels last year, and the average per acre is 13 58 bushels, against 12 16 bushels in 1879. The acreage is 461,030 greater than in 1879.

The raffle for control between Tammany and Tilden still progresses, and is likely to continue until the last garment has been parted by lot. It is a lovely sight, and illustrates the boast of both parties that the quarrel was "on principle."

"I guess our goose is cooked," was the expressive remark of a Fusionist yesterday, when he scanned the bulletin board.

Slavery has invented but one machine, and that was a thrashing-machine in the shape of a whip. Free labor has invented all the machines that have added to the power, added to the wealth, added to the leisure, and added to the glory and civilization of mankind.

How much money was spent by Fusion candidates, on Monday, for rum, on orders? Will the Commercial give the information?

Hon. Washington Long, formerly Collector at Eastport, an uncle to our Governor, was one of those Fusionists who, last winter, with his associates had to hold a session on the sidewalk in front of the State House, with a gatling gun pointed at them. His constituents have determined to send him back to take his proper seat and help bury the dead and wounded found in the lines of the aggressors.—Boston Post.

THE 4TH AND 5TH DISTRICT.

No men could have made better fights than did Mr. Millliken in the 5 rict and Capt. Boutelle in the 4th. They were active, earnest, and very able on the stump, and in due time the people of Eastern Maine will recognize their real merit.

The tide has been against both these gentlemen, but whoever thinks that they are crushed out, reckons in a superficial way. The State will have need for them yet.—Ellsworth American.

The Evening News can't make any Republican or other intelligent citizen believe General Hancock wasn't in the battle of Gettysburg; but if it can prove it to the satisfaction of any Democrats, there is danger that it will increase the Democratic vote.

Linnens did splendidly on Monday. Hon. P P. Burleigh writes

Every voter in town was at the polls and voted, and notwithstanding the depressing effect of the "masterly inactivity" of the Republicans of Houlton, we gave Davis 8, Boutelle 10, and the Republican candidate for Representative 11 majority.

The Fusionists sent for the Milford Band to come down and assist them in their demonstration, and in the liberality of their souls, actually offered the members one dollar each for their services, the Band to pay their own expenses. All their money spent last Sunday, you know.

There has been a terrible falling away of poultry in the columns of the Commercial. Tuesday there was a whole coop of fighting cocks, Wednesday there was one lonesome old rooster, and yesterday not a bird

"Where, and O where, has my little birdie gone?"

Well, Gen Plaisted is in his old place,—at the rear.

The Fusionists yesterday absolutely came near planning for another demonstration yesterday, on the strength of a typographical error occurring in the WHIG

Will our friends in this district who have not already done so, send us the votes thrown for all the candidates on the tickets.

Great preparations are being made in Boston for the celebration of the 250th anniversary, which occurs to-day. Half a million of people will witness the grand scenes of the occasion.

As the Commercial has withdrawn its poultry from its columns, we kindly offer the loan of the above cut for its headings on Plaisted's election.

SENATOR BLAINE TO GENERAL GARFIELD.

But Little Doubt of Davis' Election.

REPUBLICANS IN SPLENDID HEART AND COURAGE.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 16. Senator Blaine sent the following telegram this afternoon to General Garfield:

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 16, 1880.

General James A. Garfield, Mentor, Ohio.

The indications now point unmistakably to the election of Governor Davis. If we could be assured of an honest vote and an honest return in the French plantations of Aroostook County, every possibility of doubt would be removed. Those plantations have been the hot beds of Democratic fraud for thirty years past. We have not yet received their returns. The total vote for Governor Davis will reach nearly, if not quite, seventy-four thousand. Only twice in the history of our party in Maine has the vote exceeded seventy-five thousand and never reached seventy-six thousand. The average annual vote for the past ten years has been little more than sixty thousand. Our people are in splendid heart and courage and will go into the November fight with the advantages of a popular majority in the contest of Monday last.

(Signed) J. G. BLAINE.

From Hancock County.

ELLSWORTH, Sept. 16. Dedham gives Davis 62, Plaisted 24. There is a small Republican majority in Cranberry Isles. Isle au Haut gives Davis 28, Plaisted 27.

Score One for the Fusionists.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16. Five more towns, one in Somerset and four in Washington, show a fusion gain of one.

Well Done, Somerset.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16. Five plantations and small towns in Somerset County on the remotest upper waters of the Kennebec received this morning give Davis 193; Plaisted, 101. Last year Davis, 136; Smith, 152; Garcelon, 51. Republican majority 2 this year, against a Fusion majority of 67 last year.

Afternoon Summary.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16.—4 P. M. 460 towns give Davis 71,894; Plaisted 71,010; Davis' plurality 884; scattering 336. The same towns last year gave Davis 67,805; Smith 47,129; Garcelon 20,769; Fusion plurality 93; scattering 262. The towns to come gave Davis 1,300; Fusionists 1,916; Fusion plurality 608; scattering 81. Deduct the Fusion plurality to come from the Republican plurality and Davis will have 276 plurality, if the rest come in as last year. There are now only 38 towns to hear from, with an aggregate vote of 1,305. Blaichli brings in a further Republican gain of 37.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Prohibition State Convention.

CONCORD, Sept. 16. The Prohibition State Convention assembled at 11 o'clock with 50 delegates. J. M. Fletcher, of Nashua, was chosen temporary chairman, and addressed the convention. The usual committees were appointed.

Rev. S. C. Keeler, of Sunapee, was made permanent chairman.

George D. Dodge was nominated for Governor by acclamation. Wm. Ham, J. C. Goodnow, and David Heald were nominated for Railroad Commissioners, and Asa Kendall and J. M. Fletcher for Electors. Other nominations left to the committee. The resolutions endorse Neal Dow.

FINAL SUMMARY,

Made at One o'clock this Morning.

DAVIS' PLURALITY 303.

PORTLAND, Sept. 17th—1 A. M. Four hundred and seventy-two towns give Davis 72,661; Plaisted, 71,783, scattering 336. The same towns last year gave Davis 68,478, Smith 47,567, Garcelon 21,040, scattering 263; Davis' plurality 878, against a Fusion plurality last year of 129. Thirty-four towns not received, gave last year Davis 635, Fusionists 1207, scattering 80—a Fusion plurality of 572. If they come in the same this year, Davis will have left 403 plurality. Adding the scattering to that received, we have 416; so that Davis will not get a majority without a further gain of 114.

The total vote to hear from is 1,922, which increased five per cent. like the rest, will bring the aggregate up to 146,800 as per Tuesday night's estimate, and 300 more than predicted Monday night. It will, however, be divided the other way, namely, Davis 73,330, Plaisted 73,050, scattering 320, subject to further gains and losses on either side. The twelve Aroostook towns to come, part of them in the French district, gave last year Davis 157, Smith 70, Garcelon 481, a total of only 708; so that their changes cannot very well vary the result. The other 22 tons are four plantations in Franklin county up by the Rangeley Lakes, at the head waters of the Kennebec, three in Oxford and two in Somerset, in the same wild region, six in Hancock, two of which are remote coast islands and four in the back forests of the county. Three are in Penobscot county, Clifton, Exeter and Garland, and the remaining four are in Washington, all in unsettled Lake regions, so that the whole twenty-two are widely scattered and cannot swing together. The same remark will partly apply to the twelve Aroostook towns. WE THEREFORE CONCLUDE THAT DAVIS WILL HAVE A PLURALITY OF ABOUT THREE HUNDRED. The last twelve towns received, 3 from Hancock, 1 from Somerset, 4 from Washington, and 3 from Aroostook, which will sample the rest, gave a Republican gain of 50 in a total vote of 1540. A similar gain in the 1,922 to hear from, would give only 63, which would bring Davis' plurality up to 366 and leave him 50 short of a majority, if scattering comes in as anticipated.

The granger picnic on the park will add greatly to the enjoyment of the farmers in attendance.

BRADFORD ITEMS. Our correspondent writes: The Fall term of the Bradford Free High School commenced last Monday, and is now in successful operation, under the instruction of F. A. Houston, graduate of the Maine Central Institute.

—Thomas Goodrowe, one of our townsmen, has been very unfortunate this summer.——A short time since his dwelling house was struck by lightning and considerably damaged, and last Sunday morning his barn, together with hay, grain, two wagons, harnesses, and all of his farming implements, including one mowing machine, were destroyed by fire. Cause of fire unknown. No insurance. On Monday subscription papers were circulated for the benefit of Mr. Goodrowe and about two hundred dollars have already been subscribed.

DONATION PARTY. A correspondent writes: The members of the West Hampden Baptist Society, according to previous arrangements made their pastor, Rev. E. H. Drew, who has been sick for two weeks past, a donation visit Monday. The day being stormy prevented many of the members that lived at a distance from attending, which was regreted by those that were present. With that exception everything passed off to the satisfaction of all present and all appeared reluctant to leave for their several homes, but they will have the pleasure as they pass through the journey of life, of looking back to this day as one of the happiest gatherings that add to the joys of this life. The presents were liberal and thankfully received by the pastor and wife, and we all left them with the prayer that a kind providence will grant us many more similar visits.

THE BOATS. Last week's storm caused the first interruption to travel by the Sanford steamers since they began their six trips a week in June. The Katahdin on the western trip Wednesday encountered an easterly wind and heavy sea after passing Boon Island, but arrived at Boston on time Thursday morning. She did not leave that port, however, until half-past two o'clock Saturday morning. The Cambridge, leaving Belfast Thursday, put into Portsmouth, and did not reach Boston until Saturday morning, behind the New Brunswick, which left Friday and made the trip without detention. The sea ran very high outside Thursday and Friday, but the westerly wind which prevailed Saturday soon knocked it down. The Katahdin arrived here at about six o'clock yesterday morning and sailed in the afternoon.

NEW STEAMER. The American says: The little steamer Fannie has done a good business between Bar Harbor, Hancock and Sullivan, during the past season. Capt. True proposes to build a larger boat during the winter, in which Captain Barbour, of the, "City of Bangor" will take an interest. When completed the new boat will connect at Bar Harbor with the Bangor boat and run to Lamoine, Hancock and Sullivan. It is certain to be a profitable connection.

COMMENCING YOUNG. Four boys named Cavanaugh, Kenney and Nutter, the oldest about thirteen years of age, went over to Brewer yesterday afternoon, and hired a team from Joseph Libbey, for one dollar. They came to this city with the team and drove through some of the side streets as fast as the horse could go, applying the whip in a vigorous manner. As they were crossing Third street they met Officer Nickerson, who was just coming from home to go on duty. The sight of the officer caused them considerable alarm and they turned the horse into a yard, when two of the boys jumped from the carriage and tried to run away. One of the Nutter boys made his escape, but the other three were taken to the station house, where they passed the night, and the team sent home.

A SAD FATE. Our correspondent writes: Frank S. Wentworth, youngest son of Rev. Sheldon Wentworth, living in Plymouth, left his father's residence the 4th instant, and with his dog, gun and boat went up Plymouth Pond in search of game. Not returning as expected his father went on to the bridge, crossing the pond, to see if he could discover or learn any tidings of him. A few rods above the bridge he saw his boat with his dog in it; likewise his hat floating in the water. His suspicions were aroused and a crowd soon collected in the vicinity. After a short search his lifeless body was found in the water near his boat. He was a young man endeared to many, and all who knew him regret deeply his untimely end. Our community feel a heartfelt sympathy for his bereaved parents whose fond anticipations of his future promise and comfort to them are thus blasted.

LUMBER. The St. John News says: The prospects for an active lumber season and steady market for the coming fall are good. From the present outlook the amount of lumber cut this year on the Northwest and Southwest branches of the Miramichi will not be less than last season's harvest. Messrs. Scott and John Fairly and Wm. Richards have 20,000,000 feet hung up on the river and its branches, and these gentlemen will scarcely cut so much as last season. Lumbermen are getting into the woods very early this year. Mr. R. P. Whitney who operates extensively on the northwest Miramichi has already sent fifty men into the woods, and Messrs. D. & J. Ritchie will set a party to work in the same locality about the 10th inst. As a somewhat unusual occurrence it may be mentioned that Mr. D. McLaughlin has had a party at work in the woods all summer and will have some 500,000 feet ready this fall. Logs are bringing a much better price this year than last while the advance in wages is very slight. Logs last year were got out at an average rate of $5 50 per M. Many were glad to get rid of their stock at $5. Men's wages ranged from $10 to $14 per month. A few days since a lot of very inferior logs sold at $7 per M. Lumber operatives refuse to get logs out this year under $6.50 per M, and in many cases $7 is obtained. The changed aspect in lumber matters is due to several reasons. The English market which was steady a year ago was not cramped by the spring shipments, from the fact that the amount of lumber cut was not much above the ordinary, and that so much of it was hung up along the streams. Last year operators were looking anxiously across the water for a site to place their stock; this year English speculators are enquiring for lumber at a considerably higher figure. The chances are that Government lands will be used to an extent very largely in excess of last year.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday Dan'l Sullivan was arraigned on a search and seizure process, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, or ninety days in jail. He appealed.

UNIONISTS REJOICING.

A Grand Demonstration at Bangor.

[Special Despatch to the Boston Post.]

BANGOR, Sept. 15.

The Unionists of this city and vicinity indulged in a grand jubilee and love feast this evening, in celebration of the great victory achieved at the polls on Monday. The Hancock Legion, Hancock Veterans, Plaisted Guards, Hancock Guards of Brewer, and other organizations, together with citizens, united in a torchlight parade, making a brilliant show and creating the greatest enthusiasm. Gen. Plaisted was serenaded, and cheer after cheer rent the air as the procession passed his residence on Broadway. The illuminations were extensive and beautiful, even more so than on the occasion of the great demonstration on Saturday night last, which was then acknowledged to be the finest show of the kind ever seen in Bangor.

That correspondent evidently has not heard from the back towns yet, as the above celebration never has occurred and is not likely to.

INTERESTING PARADING.

Oh Where, Oh Where have those Rooster Gone?

The following items taken from the Commercial since the election are worthy of reproduction:

A glorious victory nobly won.

The voice of the people has been heard.

"The man who laughs"—the Union voter.

Maine justifies her proud title.

General Plaisted elected Governor by at least two thousand majority.

"As goes Maine so goes the Union."

It strikes us that those Fusion voters don't seem so much inclined to laugh as they did. They are like the fellow who started to rub the bull's nose in the dirt, when he said, after picking himself up on the other side of the fence, "It is mighty lucky that I had my laugh before hand." And about that grand street demonstration in honor of Plaisted's election. Just when is that to come off? The weather was clear last evening so that those remarkably happy Fusionists will no longer be compelled to curb their exuberance on that account. We would suggest that "Home, Sweet Home" would be an appropriate selection for the Band to discourse when that happy event is celebrated.

THE WOMEN AT HOME.

Our mothers, wives and daughters! Home is not home at all without them. Yet they may die and leave the house silent and sad any day. Husbands and fathers, a word in your ear. The ladies are not always to blame when they are low-spirited and "cross." They are sick. Don't you be fools or brutes and think they'll come out all right if you are only "firm" and mean yourselves. Put a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy on the shelf, and tell them to use it. The color will come back to the cheeks and the laugh to their lips. MISTAKES SHOULD BE CORRECTED;

Particularly the practice of taking medicines into the system by way of the stomach for diseases of the Kidneys. It is an old treatment, well tried, and proven inefficient. The true method is absorption, as proven by the great success of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD. sept17

THREE THINGS.

A thoughtful man once said that two things settled the question of our happiness or misery, viz.: Our relations to our Creator and to women. There is one more—our relations with our own blood in our veins. Impure blood will produce tumors. It did so in the case of Mrs. Walter Hinckley, of Cotuit, Mass. The doctors could do nothing for her. A neighbor brought from Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., a bottle of his "Favorite Remedy." She tried it and became better. "No woman," writes Mrs. H., "can afford to be without Favorite Remedy." It will cost you only One Dollar to make the experiment. A good result is sure.

MY FIRST SITUATION.

CHAPTER I.

I was nineteen, well born, and as I was constantly being told, beautiful. But what was the use of it all? I was an orphan and poor. My brothers were both married, and though kind in their way, I felt that I could not be dependent upon them.

My education had been excellent, and through it I determined to work.

"You are very young, Margaret" said the kindest of my sisters-in-law Which was true in England, but abroad, nineteen is a most respectable age Besides, each day would ratify that failing more and more my advertisements for a family in Germany who might require the services of a young lady of many accomplishments and irreproachable family, brought me three answers I picked out the one that sounded kindest and of which the postmark was furthest from home, for my brothers' pride was great. It was from a Countess Dahlen She required a young lady to teach English, French, drawing and music to three girls and a boy, of various ages to talk English at odd hours with herself and the Count, and to make herself generally useful and agreeable. Salary to be given £30 Also the young lady was required directly

The letter went decided me I closed with the offer, bade good bye to my friends, wished a rather sentimental adieu to my native land, and then steadily turned my eyes out to sea as we steamed into the Channel on our way to Hamburg

I got safe as Berlin very comfortably A letter was awaiting me at the Ladies Pension, to which I had been directed begging me to meet the Countess Dahlen and her daughters at the East Prussian Railway Station the next morning at eight o'clock. They would all hold their pocket-handkerchiefs in their hands, and I was to do the same

I was quite ready to start next morning when I was told my droschky was at the door Preceded by all my goods and chattels I ran down in an excellent spirits and ensconced myself in my droschky, looking forward with some curiosity to meeting my countesses I was especially anxious to be in good time for I felt punctuality was an excellent quality in my new career.

What was my disappointment, therefore, to find myself ere long at the very end of an immense line of droschkies four abreast walking their horses at a snail's pace and occasionally stopping altogether But by degrees we got on a little, and, meanwhile I peered into every carriage around for something white like a nun in the row furthest from me there are ladies waving handkerchiefs surely In my excitement I got up for a better view and found to my chagrin that it was only a baby in white dandled by its nurse Sitting down again I noted for the hundredth time a droschky abreast of mine occupied by a single individual This individual was watching me and smiling, that is to say her lips were smiling but his eyes were laughing unmistakably, and laughing at me For the first time I felt that I was alone How often to be felt again that day Insulted and angry I sat down with my back to the ill-mannered stranger, determined to look into no more droschkies, let them be as full of ladies with handkerchiefs as they would

Soon after this we began to draw up to the station In a minute my door was pulled open and my luggage seized by a porter I had no chance but to run after him. In the large entrance hall I insisted upon his putting down my things, much to his discomfiture, for he was on the point of throwing them into the weighing machine The crowd of arrivals swayed and surged around me but though I scanned each face and figure, I tried in vain to recognize the countesses.

Time passed and I began to feel, and, probably to look anxious and uncomfortable

Can I be of any assistance to you, mademoiselle' said a very pleasant voice behind me in excellent English

I turned round gratefully and encountered the laughing eyes of my neighbor in the next droschky He had dared to laugh at my anxiety and my pride rebelled at this insult from a foreigner! I turned very red and said indignantly

'No, thank you, I am waiting for friends

He bowed low, and as he moved away I thought I detected the same smile lurking about his mouth But the crowd was thinning fast—the clock pointed to within five minutes of the hour—what was I to do

The Frenlein had better let me take her ticket for her, the ladies have probably been missed in the crowd and are already in the train, they will all meet at the great junction, where many people have to get out'

This came from the red capped station master, who had come up to me, and to whom I had explained my position

One minute more and the ticket office will be closed he added as he saw I hesitate

'Well, take it, then I replied bewildered and perplexed. I was ignorant of the Dahlen's route, and not knowing whether I ought to go or stay, I let his advice carry the day

But the was cast now, at any rate for no less than a minute I found my ticket taken my luggage weighed, and myself being carried off to my carriage Whilst the guard and the porter actually lifted me in, I caught a glimpse of my neighbor of the next droschky, looking out of a window higher up

The train was slow and the stations endless However the happy moment arrived at length, when a guard opened the carriage door, shouting, "Gorswald—all change here for Woltersdorf" and out I jumped Before I could assure myself that all my luggage was out, the train was off again I looked round eagerly An old woman was hobbling off with a basket, a lady was being embraced by a tender husband, and my neighbor of the next droschky was disappearing within the door of exit toward the town. That was all No countesses—no one excepting me—nothing A hot midday sun, an insupportable glare, and not a creature who knew one word of English My courage began to ebb a little, still I mustered all my German and began to explain my perplexities to the station master As soon as I got to Graf Dahlen's name, the official's hitherto perplexed face brightened up at once

'Graf Dahlen' he cried, 'Ja ja, now he knew all about it It is to Woltersdorf the Fraulein wishes to go, of course. The Herr Graf lives close by I know. I will see that the Fraulein gets there

And with this comfortable assurance the station master politely picked up my bag and showed me the way to the waiting room

'In half an hour Fraulein, the train will start for Fries May I order you some coffee?

No I would have nothing I was disappointed tired and hot. It was evident that now I must give up all hope of meeting the countesses, and make the best of my way to my new home alone. The actual necessity was not so pleasant and did not look so easy as the prospects of getting there "somehow" had been in the morning

In less than half an hour the polite red capped station master was back again

"Now Fraulein the train will be up directly. You will get to Fries at six o'clock, and then an omnibus will take you on to Woltersdorf, should the Count not send his carriage all the way to Fries"

"But I never heard of an omnibus," I protested as well as I could "Are you quite sure about the name"

"Quite," replied the official rather cutely. "And if the Fraulein heard nothing about the omnibus it was because the Herr Graf is going to send his carriage all the way to Fries"

With a polite touch of his cap, he handed me into the train, wished me the stereotyped "prosperous journey," and closed the door.

The afternoon wore on even more slowly than the morning had done. When the Fries station came in sight it seemed as if I had seen the last of Berlin, and heard the last English words from my neighbor of the next droschki more than a week ago

Once more I turned out, and the train flew on. This time the station consisted of but a single house and a few sheds. One look showed that no one was here to meet me, for I could take in a mile of country round at one glance.

A long, low, hideous conveyance, labelled "Omnibus to Woltersdorf," was drawn up close to the line, in case any unhappy mortal should want to ascend into its cavernous interior. I was ushered to its door by an individual, who to judge from his appearance, did all the dirty work of the station of Fries and all the clean work for the matter of that, for he was the only living being visible around, with the exception of his dirty little dog, who trotted at his heels Having deposited my luggage on the top, and me in the interior of the vehicle, the Fries man of all work mumbled some unearthly sounds, whilst his dog looked up and barked. I shall never forget the shaking and the misery of that vehicle of torture, the omnibus between Fries and Woltersdorf

At last there are twinkling lights in the distance, and Woltersdorf comes in sight, with its tall church steeple and square towered town hall standing out against the evening sky.

"At last" Here I shall find some friendly face and voice to tell me what to do And more dead than alive I opened the heavy omnibus door and got down the steep steps at fly, more like ninety than nineteen The omnibus had stopped at the little post-office to deliver letters and W Hurd, the unlucky first payment note running to said Preston, dated April 1 1879, one for $75 00 payable by June 1, 1880, and one for $86 00, payable by June 1, 1880, and said Preston was prevented by death from so doing and yours petitioner has performed or is ready to perform the conditions required of him by the terms of said contract, wherefore he prays your honor to grant the admin administrator of said Preston D Hurd a deed or deeds to carry said contract into effect.
